Programs for individuals

Leadership Coaching

Personalised, one-to-one support for leaders at all levels

About leadership coaching

In the same way that a great sports coach is integral to enabling peak athletic performance, a leadership coach enables great leadership by providing a safe and supportive space for leaders to reflect, experiment, learn from mistakes, and ultimately grow. Suitable for leaders at all levels, of all genders and across all industries, our Leadership Coaching provides truly personalised one-to-one support.

Our coaches are experienced leaders who have lived and breathed the opportunities and challenges that leadership brings. Our coaching methodology adheres to best-practice models and ICF code of ethics.

Participant profile

Leadership coaching is suitable for leaders at all levels, and is tailored to the individual's experience level, challenges and goals.

Learning Outcomes

In this program participants will:

Reconnect with your purpose and what's really important to you

Challenge your beliefs & assumptions and be open to new possibilities

Unpack mistakes and learn from setbacks

Build your confidence and be courageous

Explore your challenges in a safe and supportive environment

Identify and leverage your strengths and achievements

Be creative and generate your own solutions

Coaching experience

Personalised, one-to-one coaching is delivered online over one or more 60-minute sessions.

Our experienced coaches will tailor your sessions to your unique goals, using a range of proven tools and models, and focusing on cognitive and behavioural outcomes.

Through the coaching process, you will commit to a considered Development Action Plan aligned with your needs and goals. This approach equips you with practical strategies to effectively identify, understand and achieve your goals - and has been instrumental in supporting the development of thousands of our graduates.

I worked with my Coach with the intention of focusing on accountability to my goals, and helping me become a better leader. I got all of this, and in addition, a timely focus on resilience and looking after myself first, so that I could in turn, support others.
